

International School of Aruba

2010 - 2011

A Partnership for Success

It is our firm belief that I.S.A. and our students will be best served when we work together in the form of a triangle: students, parents and school. At the International School of Aruba, we expect our parents to assist us in the education of our students. The education begins by both parents and students reading this handbook, understanding the contents and agreeing to abide by the policies, rules and guidelines contained in the handbook. Parents and students must show that commitment by signing the acknowledgement and agreement section at the bottom of this page.

Other ways that parents may assist us and their child work towards success are listed below:

- Ensure that your child arrives at school on time each day.
- Send your child to school in a clean uniform each day.
- Ensure that your child gets plenty of rest each night.
- Provide classroom supplies and resupply as needed.
- Guide your child with nightly homework. DO NOT do it for them. Give them a chance to try the homework and then assist him or her with it.
- Provide a quiet place and set a time each night for your child to do his or her homework.
- Have reference books, reading books and a dictionary available in your home.
- If you have concerns about your child's academic progress, first consult with the appropriate teacher, then the counselor or Head of School, if needed.
- Read this handbook with your child and ensure understanding, especially sections on student dress, attendance, academic honesty and appropriate use of computers/internet.
